DICKINSON RILES STEEL CORPORATION'S LAWYER

Then Roars Him to Silence in Dispute Over Testimony About Bridge Co.

ROCKEFELLER IN THE CASE

Judge Jacob M. Dickinson, who used to be Secretary of War before he got into the suit which the Government has started to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation, slipped into his fighting teg- again yesterday morning and before

What course during the last year has the American Bridge Company pursued n taking business up to its capacity?" "It has taken a larger amount of busi ness than the independents."

Have its bids been low?"

"Hasn't that company been uniformly making low bids?"

It was at this point that Mr. Lindabury arose and said: I must object to your putting words nto the mouth of the witness." "I am not putting words into the wit-ness a mouth," came back Judge Dickin-

"I object to your taking advantage of the fact that there is no Judge present to rule on these matters. You have practised law long enough to know—" "I don't propose to submit to any personal criticism," roared Judge Dickinson, rising to his feet and thrusting his hands into his trousers pockets. "I am willing you should make all the objections you want to on the records, but I will not and for any thing more."

Mr. Lindabury didn't have any reply to make to this and there was an embarrassing moment or two.

Those who were listening to the testimenty in the afternoon pricked up their cars when Everett B. Arnold took the sand and began to tell about the hard time the Troy Steel Company had in making a living. He said he went to the former company in 1886 and remained there until 1894, when the second company was organized. This company had to cutt in 1897.

"What was the Bensselaer company?"

What was the Rensselaer company?" asked Judge Dickinson.

company that failed. Mr. Arnold finally said that he wasn't sure that Mr. Rockefeller was among them. He had heard it, he said, but never saw him at any of the conferences. In fact, he said, he never saw Mr. Rockefeller but twice in his life. Then the Steel Corporation counsel wanted Judge Dickinson to consent that Mr. Rossefeller's name be stricken out of the record, but Judge Dickinson insisted that the witness had explained that he wasn't sure and he thought it could stand.

GOSSIP OF WALL STREET.

lt is probable that the investigation by the Pujo committee has hurt members of the Stock Exchange even though it has brought out nothing detrimental to the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange out something detrimental to the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange itself to something detrimental to the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange itself to some of the stock exchange even though it has brought that the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange out something detrimental to the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange even though it has brought that the committee may bring out something detrimental to the exchange itself. For whatever reason, stock exchange out something detrimental to the exchange itself committee may bring out something detrimental to the market. Some of them say that the relation of credit to business and speculation is a pretty delicate matter for politicians to be indulging in and consider the investigation fraught with danger on that account. Others hear that several brokers and several market operators have been subpoened to testify and infer that they will be asked about their operators have been subpoened to testify and infer that the can refuse to answer questions relating to his private business, nevertheless the fact that such questions may be asked probably tends to prevent large operations at this time and makes commissions as scarce as hen's teeth.

All of the Wall Street men who had experience in the 1907 panic have been amused this week at the facts brought out by the Pujo committee. Matters have been displayed as startlingly new which were known to everybody in Wall Street at the time of the panic and were published broadcast at the time. All the testimony regarding the deposit of $25,000,000 in the national banks on October 24, 1907, for instance, and the subsequent placing of $25,000,000 in the Stock Exchange loan market was published on the following day with many details that have not been revived by the committee, such as the understood injunc-tion that no marginal speculation and no short selling must be allowed, that the money should be advanced without discrmination to all brokers furnishing good collateral, that the Stock Exchange must have shut up shop had not the money been forthcoming and so on. Many of the members of the Stock Exchange think their representatives could have presented the Stock Exchange side of the case more clearly and in more satisfactory detail.

Of Steel common 17,650 shares changed hands. Next to it in point of activity was Guggenheim Exploration, in which transactions amounted to 17,100 shares. It was the Guggenheim company's first day in the Stock Exchange. The net result of the trading in it was an advance of 3 points. There were many other specialties much before the ordinarily There were many other specialities much more active than most of the ordinarily active stocks. Beet Sugar, Mait common and preferred, Snuff, Sugar, Chino Copper, Colorado Fuel, Inspiration Copper, Miami Copper, Bay Consolidated, Tennessee Copper, Utah Copper and Virginia-Carolina Chemical were dealt in more heavily than the standard and ordinarily were most of the standard and ordinarily active rails.

The transfer of $1,000,000 through the Sub-Treasury was for the Yokohama Spec Bank and may imply an export of gold to Japan.

"Who were the men interested in the Troy Steel and Iron Company?"

The announcement that the Canadian Pacific had decided to seend between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000 in double tracking the Rocky Mountain division and reducing grades revived reports that the company proposed to bring out a new stock issue in the not distant future. The amount of the not distant future. The amount of the not distant future are about the F Goodrich Co. There is a feeling that ome of the securities which have been of fered should never have been taken to the London market, but issues of this kind, after all, floated in London are very few."

As a group the copper companies have profited more from the business improvement this year than any other. More of them have increased dividends than have companies in any other class of industrial mining or railroad corporations. Yester-day the Phelps. Dodge Company, one of the largest, declared an extra dividend of 2 per cent. in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of a 2 per cent. With the copper metal market holding above 17 cents it is natural to expect increased earnings and the summary. increases in dividend; from many other

The bond market, as was indicated by the sale of New York State bonds last week. continues a bit sluggish, but there is no appearance of diminution in the demand term notes. Yesterday very soon after the announcement of the sale $15,000,000 Illinois Central two year 415 per cent. notes to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. it was announced that the notes had all been sold, banking houses applying for them eagerly The company will use the proceeds of the notes in payment of Central of Georgia 5 per cent, income bonds recently acquired by it. Newman Erb, president of the Minneapolis and St. Louis, is off on a tour of in-spection of the company's lines. A report on the condition of the property has recently been submitted by S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western, and Mr. Erb will make an examination supplemental to this. It is understood that one important object of the trip, as of the Felton report, is an examination preliminary to carrying out the plan for linking the Minneapolis and St. Louis with other so-called Hawley lines and a line running into Canada and establishing a system running from Canada to the Gullf of Mexico. Hawley's lifetime, but little has been done toward carrying it out since his death.
